What If?

Brad Fregger

Okay, I admit it, lately I've felt like a 10-year-old prairie girl hiding in the bushes watching a gang of thugs ransack our home and then burn it down, and all I can think is, where's the Lone Ranger when you need him?

But, lately my research has been led down some interesting paths and uncovered some scenarios about the election.

The future of America remains in doubt.

The world is watching us closely. People will risk everything they own, everything they hold dear and even death to come to America. Not for free stuff. Any free stuff is just icing on the cake. Actually, they'd gladly take the cake without the icing.

The cake is freedom, or as my Palestinian, Muslim grandson from Kuwait says, "A chance to be all I can be, a chance to throw off the cloak of yesterday and move confidently into the future."

They know that as America goes, so goes the world. But now it looks like we might be watching a gang of thugs burn down our home, destroying everything we hold dear.

But, what if, there's another future ahead for us? What if the Lone Ranger is on the way?

I know three things for sure. First, I know that the progressives, globalists, democrats, etc. will do anything, and I mean ANYTHING, to make sure Trump doesn't become president for four more years.

I also know that Trump has planned for the real possibility of major riots should he ultimately win the election. Do you really believe that Trump put the military in strategic places throughout the United States just for effective and efficient distribution of the vaccine?

Major riots will be met with a powerful military force and those that don't get arrested and charged with federal crimes will run like hell, just like the cowards and bullies they really are.

In the same way, I suspect Trump must have had a plan to deal with the massive election fraud that has been going on for years and was bound to play even a greater role in the 2020 election.

So here's my theory of how Trump planned to assure himself four more years and totally destroy the enemy within.

First, he made sure that it would be impossible for the democrats to win by cheating without exposing all of their dirty tricks for the world to see.

He accomplished this goal by having up to five major rallies a day for the few weeks prior to the election, creating a level of excitement never seen before. And, let's not forget the fact that he more than kept his promises to America during his four years in office.

The progressives deserve some credit too. Their shenanigans around the Russia collusion hoax, General Flynn, the faux impeachment, and then nominating a president who was in the early stages of dementia and a vice president who was a flaming Marxist; none of this was not lost on the vast majority of Americans.

Trump had anticipated their every move and they were not just walking, but gladly skipping into his trap, into the greatest sting operation in the history of the world.

There is strong circumstantial evidence that the democrats have created the largest, and so far, the most ambitious and pervasive election fraud organization in history, with the major support of foreign entities and software specially designed to change, add, and subtract votes; including other tactics that resulted in millions of illegal votes for Biden.

On September 12, 2018 Trump signed an Executive Order on Imposing Certain Sanctions in the Event of Foreign Interference in United States Election. He was so concerned about the potential use of "digital devices and Internet-based communications" that he declared "a national emergency to deal with the threat."

A critical and relevant part of the order basically states that any U.S. or foreign citizen who has "directly or indirectly engaged in, sponsored, concealed, or otherwise been complicit in foreign interference in a United States election" shall have their property or interests blocked.

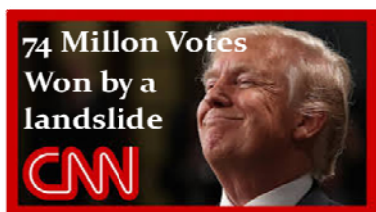

If we have a conspiracy, involving numerous foreign entities, to steal the presidency and transform America into a Marxist, socialist country on steroids, there will probably be strong proof of certain individuals and/or organizations directly or indirectly complicit in foreign interference in the 2020 election, including most of the social networking giants, plus Google and billionaires like Gates and Bloomberg, and media outlets like the New York Times and the Washington Post. All of the above might find themselves in the position of having to face harsh penalties; at the very least there will be a boatload of critical negotiations.

In addition, many involved directly in this massive voter fraud may very well be on their way to Guantanamo.

There's little doubt that Trump won the election. It's estimated that he received ten to fifteen million more votes than he received in 2016, well over 72 million.

You'd have to be the best fantasy writer in the world to create a scenario where Biden received even more votes than Obama did in 2008. While Obama broke the record, he didn't break 70 million.

So, if this scenario is correct and Trump wins by proving, as Biden accidentally confessed, the greatest election fraud in the history of the world; we are in for some interesting, dramatic, and, quite possibly, dangerous times. But, as always, Trump is prepared and the enemy will be vanquished.

When all this has settled down, America and the world will enter a golden age the likes of which has only been found in science fiction novels.

Plus, Humanity will begin to realize its destiny as a spacefaring race, destined to explore and colonize the galaxy, if not the universe.

Thank you.
